
Vice Jaws

Short Description

Vice Jaws

Description

If you have ever assembled hose & fittings, you know how frustrating it can be when you scratch your brand new fittings while assembling them in a vice. No matter how hard you try by wrapping in tape or using rags, they always seem to get damaged.

By using this invaluable tool, the aluminium vice jaws will save you time and heartache. They have a magnetic back face that sticks to the vice and angle cuts that securely holds the hex shape of the hose ends. It also allows assembly in different positions, either vertically or horizontally.

If you are making up hoses, you should not be without the aluminium vice jaws.
